Course Overview

Creative media is a full time vocational course equivalent to 3 A levels. There are no exams on this course and all tasks are assessed through course work.

As part of this course, you will look at a wide variety of disciplines geared towards working in the media industry. The course is designed to introduce a variety of topics over the two years through assignments and live chat briefs. All tasks connect with industry job roles and career pathways.

This course is for those interested in further developing their skills in digital graphics, film production, animation, web and app design, 3D environment and character design, research, journalism and media theories.

You will be assessed against 5 key targets which are:

- Informing ideas
- Problem solving
- Professionalism
- Communication

In order to achieve well on this course and progress to employment, apprenticeships or university it is vital you learn to work together, communicate well and work in teams. A career in the media industry is demanding and requires excellent communication skills which we then apply to the 5 key targets set by BTEC.

The UK creative industries contribute billions to the UK economy through music, TV, games, product design, written copy, advertising and marketing. This trend has been rising in recent years and the UK creative industries continued to lead, thrive and grow. Our projects are set to match industry expectations and often have links with employers, job roles and destination targets like universities.
